Bio

Kylanna Hardaway is a contemporary artist and designer who currently lives and works in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Self-taught, Kylanna began painting and drawing at a very young age. For the past 15 years, she has created custom artworks for family and friends. This past year, she designed a mural for the Jane B. Gearhart Full Circle Food Pantry at the University of Arkansas and launched her own line of greeting cards. Kylanna's colorful yet minimalistic art style reflects her eclectic personality and love for the simple little things in life.

Artist Statement

There's no right or wrong way to do art, and I think that's part of what makes it so appealing. For me, creating art is about letting go of needless expectations and embracing the beauty of the world around me.
