

Three Hives

32 x 24 x 1.5 inches
 Pastel on brown paper

David Mudrinich

Bio

Pope county artist and professor emeritus in art at Arkansas Tech University. He works in a wide range of drawing and painting media concentrating on themes related to landscape and the environment. He has participated in over 120 exhibitions to date and has won 20 awards on both the regional and national level. Some public/corporate collections of his artwork include the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences, Windgate Museum of Art at Hendrix College, State of Georgia Art Collection, University of North Georgia, Arts & Science Center for Southeast Arkansas, Farm Credit of Western Arkansas, St. Frances Cabrini Hospital in Alexandria, LA and the Fort Smith Regional Art Museum. Over 100 works are in private collections.

Artist Statement

I have always been interested in physical environments and all the various characteristics that make a particular location unique. One of my themes is exploring apiaries and the visual pattern they present arranged within a landscape. Bees are pollinators and help perpetuate life on the planet. Many apiaries I come across are at abandon locations that were once a home, farm, school or business. The hives seem to symbolize a regeneration of purpose, giving new life to what was once an active place. My compositions accent continuous change and a sense of place.