Bio

Ian McCloud is a Kansas native and an artist who resides in Northwest Arkansas. A graduate of John Brown University with a degree in Illustration. Ian's inspiration is drawn from nature, science-fiction, fantasy, comic books, and scientific illustration. He primarily creates art using pen and ink, but has been known to use other mediums such as watercolors and graphite.

Artist Statement

I strive to create artwork with natural themes with a touch of fantasy and story-telling. I enjoy the complexity and detail oriented approach of traditional artistic methods such as fine ink lines, graphite, and color washes on paper. The art I create is with the intent of making my audience wonder about the story behind a piece. To ask how a thing, person, plant, or animal got to where it is and wondering what else lies beyond the edges.
