Maurice Konkle

Bio

Maurice Konkle is a recommitted artist living in Fayetteville, Arkansas. His art story began over 40 years ago. As an undergraduate, he studied philosophy, mathematics, and physics, while devoting much of his time to photography and filmmaking. His visual development continued during graduate studies in philosophy at the University of Washington, where he earned a master's degree. After graduate school, his focus shifted to business and family. He went on to work in several computer and technical arts companies, serving as Executive Vice President of the pioneering computer database company Cipher, Executive Producer of award-winning television commercials at Celluloid Studios, and COO of the internationally acclaimed video game company Oddworld Inhabitants. In recent years, he has returned to his art practice. His work has been exhibited in galleries and public spaces in Northwest Arkansas.

Artist Statement

There's what can be seen, and there's other stuff. Wondering is part bewilderment, part bliss.
