Bio

Beau Jones, a local artist originally from Jonesboro, AR uses an abstract approach to his art in a way that not only makes it unique, but a statement piece to hang on a wall. While he has several different series of works touching on abstracts, pop art, and modern realism, he is most well known for his signature style, abstract faces. He uses a variety of vibrant colors against soft neutrals to create very exaggerated, abstract faces called BEAUTOX.

Artist Statement

I am a mixed media artist that typically works in acrylic, and uses canvas, wood and paper as the surface for most of my work. My work is driven by my love of color and design, and I like to think of my artwork as statement pieces for the home. Something that you can't stop looking at, because the design, subject matter, colors etc. pull you in enough to keep you guessing how the artist created it.
