Bio

My name is Allison Ousley, I grew up in the Fort Smith area and have been a creative for as long as I can remember. In college I studied drawing, 3D sculpture, and ceramics; finishing with a general associates from the University of Arkansas Fort Smith. I am now a full time apprentice to Newt and Amy Lale at Osage Clayworks in Osage, AR. This opportunity has provided immense growth for me as a potter.

Artist Statement

My name is Allison Ousley, and I'm a ceramic artist based in Osage, AR. Living right up from the buffalo river, I find joy in illustrating my work with creatures that I share a home with.
